Rick Cotter approaches his guitar playing as a partner instrument to his vocals. While he is not a virtuoso guitar player, he aims to create interesting guitar grooves, and associated melody lines to sing with. Having played in a variety of musical combinations over the last few decades, Rick has found a comfortable slot playing solo in cafes, bars and restaurants, as well as singing and playing drums in a couple of current bands. Along with a rhythm machine, Rick will be performing with mate and bass player Mike Curtin who has played with numerous bands around the city over a number of years.

Egos left at home, giving the spotlight to the music !

If you would like to be informed of where Rick is performing over the summer...get on his emailing list
